BISMARCK, NORTH DAKOTA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1923

PRICE 5 CENTS

MUCH CHEER TO BE FOUND OVER NORTH DAKOTA

State Land Commissioner,
After 12,000 Mile Trip, Is Very Optimistic

DIVERSIFICATION PAYS

Conditions as Reported by Farmers Themselves Are Told in the Report

Farmers who have diversified are holding their own or making money in North Dakota. The wheat farmers are going broke.

This is the blunt conclusion of C. R. Kositzky, state land commissioner, expressed to the Board of University and School Lands in a report he's entitled "A 12,000 mile trip around the state in a Ford car."

The land commissioner made his trip to make collections for the board and to discover where school lands were being used without authority. He gained a world of knowledge on the trip, he says, and is more optimistic about North Dakota than he ever was before.

Excerpts from statements given by farmers comprise the bulk of the report. They tell what they think of North Dakota and what they think is the trouble with North Dakota and individuals, if anything.

One farmer declared that "poor management, too much credit and automobiles are ruining the farmers."

Another said that "farmers who buy canned goods, condensed milk and potatoes are not farmers." Other statements of farmers are given under these headings:

"North Dakota is a good state to live in."

"Farmer plans on raising corn, beans and clover."

"Farmer can't pay his debts this year."

"Farmer buys eggs on time and trades them off for gasoline."

"Farmer does not raise corn, hogs or turkeys and thinks the government should set prices on wheat."

"Farmer admits he must change his system of farming."

"Farmer doesn't like political money business, and wishes there was no such animal."

"Farmer says America is a fine place to live in."

"Farmer says, what fools we Yankees are."

"Farmer says he owns too much land to change his system of farming now."

"Farmer has been raising corn since 1884."

"Farmer praises O. H. Will, seed house at Bismarck and thinks the corn palace should be built at Bismarck next year."

"Farmer says his business is milking cows and raising chickens and farms for pleasure."

"Farmer declares he did not expect the state to collect money on school lands which he was using."

"Farmer claims wheat raising is money shine business."

"Farmer will clear between $2,000 and $3,000 on farm this year."

Recommendations Made

Mr. Kositzky found a grievance himself, in traveling through the state. He says he saw a lot of automobile smashups, caused mostly by "road hogs" forcing the other fellow in the ditch, and he thinks it ought to be a penal offense to do this.

Recommendations made to the board by the land commissioner are:

"I have come to the conclusion that the person who does not do or cause to be done diversified farming should not receive any sympathy from this board, and that the sooner you foreclose on his loan or cancel his school land contract the better it will be for all concerned."

Further, I recommend that this board do not grant extensions of time on delinquent interest payments, make no more loans, or sell any school lands to any person who will not agree in writing to milk cows, raise corn, turkeys, chickens, hogs, etc. or cause it to be done on his land each year because if not you will be forced sooner or later to take the land."

Mr. Kositzky also observed that "I find that the farmers in the western part of North Dakota are in a very, very much better financial condition than the farmers in the eastern half. Corn fields, turkeys, hogs and cattle can be seen nearly everywhere while these are somewhat scarce in the eastern half."

One farmer who said many had left his township, told the commissioner: "While they were here they were poor managers, depending on only one thing, wheat farming, and that is what broke them. I, to a certain extent, blame the business men and bankers in our towns for being responsible for the conditions around here. They used poor judgment. Of course, it is too late to talk about it now. If they would have insisted that these people raise or do something the year round, which would constantly bring them in some revenue instead of losing them money for seed, feed, etc. or sell them something which they did not need, most of these who have left would still be here the same as I and those

DEPOSITORS REOPEN BANK

Cooperate in Making Berthold
Institution Going Concern

Berthold, N. D., Nov. 30.—Re-opening of the State Bank of Berthold, which has been closed since November 10, was effected here following the interesting of new capital in the institution and a general desire to co-operate in again putting the bank in operation.

Approximately $3,500 in deposits were received, President C. L. Stevenson of the bank announced, and there were no withdrawals.

"The officials are highly pleased with the attitude assumed by the public in expressing the spirit of co-operation to bring about the re-opening of the bank," said Mr. Stevenson. "Several of our depositors agreed to leave their funds in the bank for several months to enable us to establish the bank on a still sounder foundation."

The bank was closed by voluntary action of the officers after withdrawal of depositors became numerous.

MAN DIES IN HOTEL ROOM

Henry M. Johnson, Collector, Died Apparently of Heart Failure

Henry M. Johnson, employed by collection firms of Fargo and Minneapolis at various times, was found dead in his bed in the Van Horn hotel Thursday night. Apparently he had died of heart failure and while asleep. The room was in perfect order. An autopsy was to be performed today at the direction of Coroner Gobel to determine exact cause of death.

Mr. Johnson had been aiding J. D. Roop in collections. He returned from a trip in the Stanton country Wednesday night. He had been invited to Thanksgiving dinner by Mr. Roop but did not appear. In the evening Mr. Roop came to the hotel to investigate and Mr. Johnson was found in his room.

A card found on him showed he belonged to the Elks lodge of Red Wing, Minnesota. He is said to have a brother and sister there. He had been, it was understood, employed by the Globe Protective Indemnity Company of Fargo and the W. B. Jordan Company, Minneapolis. The body probably will be sent to Red Wing.

DISCUSS ARMS QUESTION

London, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Notwithstanding the official disavowal of government responsibility for the Reuters dispatch asserting that Great Britain had received information of a German military preparation in Germany, the news agency's item attracted considerable attention today, especially in those newspapers which are habitually suspicious of Germany.

Some others take the view that it represents an "unworthy attack" on General Bingham, representative of the inter-allied military control commission in Germany.

Curiously as to who inspired the statement is expressed by several of the papers and The Times makes it the subject of an editorial entitled "A Spurious Sensation."

The newspaper does not complain that the information contained in the statement, which it says is not very widely of the mark, but says there is hardly anything new in it and the subject matter is conveyed in such a way as to create a wrong impression. The Times argues that although Germany has a great number of trained men and small arms here armament is wholly inadequate to conduct warfare.

The Reuters article asserts that the British government has received "disturbing information" concerning the extent to which Germany is re-equipping and retraining.

It was said this revealed potential rather than imminent danger and the British authorities are frankly concerned over the situation and its bearings on the peace of Europe.

The agency item says "it is known" that rapid military training of large numbers of men in excess of the Versailles treaty stipulations has been progressing especially since the cessation of the inter-allied military control.

Mr. Finley said his road had been unable to meet the demand for transportation. Somehow, they had gotten through the years, but it was becoming increasingly difficult, he said, increasing expense of operation, he declared, gradually is driving the roads into a position certain to be harmful to this part of the country if means are not provided to check its further continuance.

"The greatly augmented traffic," Mr. Finley said, should have been met by a surplus of trucks, but there will be none in 1923. Net railway operating income in 1923 will be more than $2,000,000 less than in 1922 and this will be $15,000,000 less than it ought to be for any year when such a volume of traffic is handled.

HUGE SUMS TO BE NEEDED FOR N. W. RAILROADS

Attorney Says Two Billion Dollars Must be Spent to Provide Facilities

SEES A GREAT GROWTH

Many Big Cities Will Rise
in Future Is Prediction

Minneapolis, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press)—Details of a $44,500,000 five-year improvement program planned by the Great Northern Railway were given by George S. Martin, vice-president of the road, at the grain rate hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission here today.

This program, Mr. Martin said, was determined on last spring without any thought of the present move for a freight rate reduction but because the management of the road saw this as the minimum capital expenditure necessary to keep pace with the growing needs of the Northwest territory it serves.

Reduction of rates would be a serious blow to the railroad, the Great Northern officials said, because earnings already are greatly restricted and further reduction of earnings power would prevent the substantial improvements planned.

Minneapolis, Nov. 30.—If the Northwest states are to have the railroad facilities warranted by their growth in the next 10 years, nearly two billion dollars will have to be spent by the roads now traversing that region. Improvements contemplated, and delayed year after year, by the Chicago and Northwestern railway alone, will require the spending of at least $100,000,000.

This prediction was the outstanding feature in the testimony of W. M. Finley, president of the Chicago and Northwestern railway, given in the grain rates hearing here today.

The growth of the northwest region and the Chicago and Northwestern, the same as all others, said President Finley, "are confronted with an ever increasing volume of traffic, and the necessity for expanding their property adequately to care for it. There is every reason for believing this road will be just as rapid in the future as it has been in the past."

ence between United States and Canada officials leave for Washington today after holding a brief meeting this morning. It is believed each of the plans submitted by the United States representatives to end liquor smuggling across the Canadian borders have been thoroughly discussed.
The result of these discussions, however will not be made public until a report to the cabinet council has been submitted and acted upon by that body. The fact that the United States delegates ate an American Thanksgiving dinner last night given by Jacques Bureau minister of customs and excise, was about the only thing newspaper correspondents were sure of.

The question of smuggling of all kinds across the international border was considered and measures which might be adopted to stop the illegal traffic were suggested, said an official statement. It was believed the United States delegates held little hope that all their proposals would be adopted by the Canadian government.

last night for the west.

BIG DIAMOND HAUL IS MADE

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 30.—Diamonds said to be valued at between $50,000 and $60,000 were stolen last night by thieves who entered a hotel room here occupied by Chas. Mennikow, representative of a wholesale diamond company of Memphis, Tenn.
The robbery was discovered by Men-nikow when he returned from a theater. He told police that stones in another case valued at $75,000 and mounted gems in a trunk valued at $150,000 were overlooked.

Co-Op Scheme Hits Food Profiteers

Frankfort-on-the-Oder, Nov. 30.—
The profiteering middlemen dealing in foodstuffs have been dealt a hard blow by the co-operative efforts of a committee representing city and labor officials and a committee of the landlord, or farmers' organization.
Under the new scheme certain quantities of potatoes and meat are delivered through municipal authorities.
The result has been that the city workers and farmers have eliminated the middlemen; retail prices of potatoes and meat to consumers have been reduced nearly 50 per cent and the farmers are receiving better prices than before. Another advantage is that the supply of potatoes and meat is made certain.
Professor Gagel and other economists are urging extension of the plan to other municipalities.

Broke Up Housekeeping

"We had to break up housekeeping because of my wife's stomach trouble. No medicine did her any good for more than a few hours. On a visit to Oshkosh a friend praised Marr's Wonderful Remedy so highly my wife tried it and she has enjoyed the best of health since taking it."
It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists.—

MOTHER LOVE LEADS WOMAN TO SURRENDER

Sought by the Chicago Police in Connection with Murder of Factory Man

Chicago, Nov. 23.—A mother's love caused Mrs. Katherine Malm, 19 years old, to give herself up last night to the police who have sought her since the alleged confession of her husband Otto Malm that he shot and killed Edward Lehman, a watchman during an attempted burglary of a knit goods factory three weeks ago.

When she fled to Indianapolis after the arrest of her husband last Friday, she left a two-year-old daughter with her sister here. Her only reason for returning and surrendering she told police was the hope she would see the child again.

Questioned regarding her connection with the shooting in which she was wounded, she corroborated her husband's statement and completed the evidence which will free Walter Bokelman and Ethel Beck, indicted for the killing Bokelman who have been held since the Beck girl made a false confession in which she said she had killed Lehman, stating that she was the woman accomplice, now known to be Mrs. Malm.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep their bowels, livers and skins in good condition.

COOLIDGE'S MESSAGE TO BE POSITIVE

Not Long But to Contain Many Recommendations, Is Word Filtering Out

Washington, Nov. 23.—President Coolidge put the finishing touches on his message to Congress today and the document was sent to the printer.

The message is comparatively brief. White House attaches declaring it to be shorter than the average length of those sent to Congress by Presidents Wilson and Harding.

The President has told visitors that he framed the message with a view to presenting explicit recommendations rather than arguments and disquisitions. His desire, he said, is to impress Congress with the soundness of the recommendations with sufficient force to render arguments unnecessary.

COUNT TELLS OF IGNORANCE OF RUSSIANS

Officials Die Because They Could Only Read the Word, "Alcohol"

Count Tolstoy paid a fine tribute to Bismarck and its hospitality in an address to Rotarians at their weekly luncheon at the McKenzies hotel today. He said that this city impressed him and that he liked it so well that he would like to stay here to a week.

Giving in tabloid form his address on "The Truth About Russia," which he gave before the state teachers last week, the Count digressed to tell why he was thankful.

"That I am a Russian," he began. "That six years ago I had the foresight to see what was going to happen to that unfortunate country and was thus enabled to leave before the terrors that followed the Bolshevik uprising."

"I am thankful that better days are at hand for Russia and that I live in such a wonderful age. I am and always have been an optimist."

He said that he had to leave Russia in order to save his life. Telling of revolution which he declared was really a revolt of the slaves, he told an incident of the illiterate masses who were in control. One episode drove home his point. A commission of five Bolsheviks had been sent to a station to check up some purchases for the government and when they did not return the government wired and received the word that all of them had died. A second mission was sent out to investigate. It was discovered that the first emissaries had found some American goods at the station. Opening the boxes it was found to be canned wheat. The important representatives of Lepine could only read one word, alcohol, which Count Tolstoy designated as an "international word."

They thought it vodka and spread it on bread with the result that all died.

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY SEASON PROVES POPULAR WITH MANY BRIDAL COUPLES

The Thanksgiving holiday season proved popular with bridal couples. Eight were married during the past day or two, almost every minister in Bismarck assisting in performing the many marriage services. This report comes from the county judge's office that this was one of the busiest seasons for Thanksgiving in a number of years.

Among those taking nuptial vows were Miss Katherine McGarvey, Bismarck, and Arthur Lee Micht of Minot; Miss Hallie M. Gilbert, Bismarck, and Joseph M. Wilder, Bismarck; Miss Ennis F. Bailey, Wing, and Guilford J. Mandigo, Bismarck; Miss Elizabeth N. Herdeba, Bismarck, and Edmund Rupp, Bismarck; Miss Edna Rupp, Bismarck, and Arthur E. Lewis, Bismarck; Miss Nettie E. Lewis, Bismarck, and Charles F. May, Bismarck; Miss Maye Peits, Bismarck, and George Le Roy Diamond, Detroit, Minn.; Miss Anna Litt, Bismarck, and Miss Glaser, Bismarck.

Miss Gilbert became the bride of Joseph Wilder at St. Mary's school chapel Thursday morning. Father John Slag officiating. The bride is the daughter of Ernest L. Gilbert of Menoken.

Miss Bailey and Mr. Mandigo were united in marriage by Rev. L. R. Johnson at the study of the Baptist church Thursday evening at 6:40 o'clock. Mr. Mandigo carries mail in Bismarck, and is the son of Mr. Mary Mandigo. The bride is a niece of Mrs. A. W. Cook and has been engaged in clerking in the store of D. B. Cook for some time past. Mr. and Mrs. Mandigo will make their home in Bismarck.

Miss Elizabeth N. Herdeba and Edmund Rupp, both of Bismarck, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. Harper R. Burns at his home, 111 Thayer Street. Attending them were Miss Anna M. Rupp and Fredolene Rupp.

Miss Nettie E. Lewis, Bismarck, and Charles F. May, Bismarck, were united in marriage Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the study of Rev. Harper R. Burns. Attending them were Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer.

Miss Renfrow became the bride of Mr. Lenihan Wednesday at the St. Mary's rectory with Rev. Fr. J. Slag officiating. Attending them were Miss Nellie Reeshaugen and John Lenihan.

Miss Katherine McGarvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McGarvey of Bismarck, became the bride of Arthur Lee Micht of Minot Wednesday morning, Nov. 28 at St. Mary's Catholic church at Crosby. Rev. Fr. Pokrzycki officiated.

Attending the couple were Miss Mabel Paulson and Linn Murray, both of Crosby. The bride was attired in a brown broadcloth suit and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Mrs. McGarvey, mother of the bride, was present at the wedding.

Mrs. Might has been employed in the office of the county auditor at Crosby for the past two years. Prior to leaving Bismarck, where she attended high school and St. Mary's school, she was employed at the office of the auditor at Barleiche county for eight years. Mr. Might is an employee of the Great Northern. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Might will be at home in Minot.

PAGE TWO TRIBUTY TO COUNTY BY COUNTY TOLSTOY

Tells Rotarians of Ignorance of Russians and Why He Left Country

Explaining that he was so impressed with Bismarck that he had stretched his stay here for a week, Count Tolstoy paid a fine tribute to the city and its hospitalities in an address to the Rotarians at the weekly luncheon at the McKenzie hotel Wednesday.

Giving in tabloid form his address on "The Truth About Russia," which he gave before the state teachers last week, the Count digressed to tell why he was thankful.

"That I am a Russian," he began. "That six years ago I had the foresight to see what was going to happen to that unfortunate country and was thus enabled to leave before the terrors that followed the Bolshevik uprising."

"I am thankful that better days are at hand for Russia and that I live in such a wonderful age. I am glad always have been an optimist."

He said that he had to leave Russia in order to save his life. Telling of revolution which he declared was really a revolt of the illiterate masses who were in control. One episode drove home his point. A commission of five Bolsheviks had been sent to a station to check up some purchases for the government and when they did not return the government wired and received the word that all of them had died. A second commission was sent out to investigate. It was discovered that the first commission had found some American goods at the station. Opening the boxes, it was found to be canned wheat. The important representatives of Lenin could only read one word, alcohol, which Count Tolstoy designated as an "international word."

They thought it vodka and spread it on bread with the result that all died. This incident he declared showed the extreme ignorance of the men at the helm. He declared, however, that outside of one or two large industrial centers the soviets were in control of the better element and gradually a better day was dawning for Russia.

Dr. V. J. LaRose of the November committee president and the chief speaker of the day was Clyde Young, who made an earnest plea for more optimism. He prefaced his address by outlining some of the calamities past and those which faced us in the future. He deplored the tendency to criticize and question motives and to condemn the successful man. Mr. Young declared that one of the greatest necessities in the present crisis was a more charitable attitude toward others and the cultivation of the habit of looking on the brighter side of things.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Frank Barnes, Mrs. D. C. Seethorn, Henry Halvorson and George Humphreys sang a selection appropriate to the Thanksgiving season. Miss M. L. Leisher presided at the piano. Mrs. Barnes urged support of the Christmas seal sale for the prevention of tuberculosis.

The birthday of Arthur Gussner was observed, and Dr. LaRose performed the honors of the day with an appropriate gift.

Henry Duemeland thanked the November program committee for their

BONDED DEBT OF COUNTIES IN NORTH DAKOTA IS $5,506,932.05

Excessive, According to Usual Standards, in But One County of the State—Per Capita Bonded Debt Is Figured as $8.43

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 30.—The total net bonded debt of North Dakota counties as of June 30, 1923, was $5,506,932.05, or $8.43 per capita. (The term "net bonded debt" means the total bonded debt outstanding less sinking funds on hand applicable to retirement of such debt.) The net bonded debt of all counties is one half of one per cent of the assessed valuation of 1923. The net bonded debt of all North Dakota counties in 1913 was $1,464,230, the increase in the ten-year period being $4,042,702. The total net bonded debt of all North Dakota counties, however, is less than the amount of taxes levied for county purposes in any one of the last six years, according to compilations made in the office of the state tax commission.

Sixteen counties out of the 53 had no bonded debt as of June 30, 1923. Twenty counties had a net bonded debt amounting to less than one per cent of the assessed valuation of the county for the year 1923, the assessed valuation of 1923 being 75 percent of the full and true value. Thirteen counties had a net bonded debt ranging from one to two percent of the assessed valuation of the county. Four counties had a bonded debt in excess of two per cent of the assessed valuation of the county, for the year 1923.

The bonded debt cannot be considered excessive except in the case of Grant County. The net bonded debt of Grant county amounted to 4.37 percent of the assessed valuation of the current year. A considerable portion of this, however, is due to the issuance of seed and feed bonds.

Total Bonded Debt

The total bonded debt of all counties outstanding as of June 30, 1923, was $6,920,888.58, while the total amount of sinking funds on hand for the retirement of such debt was $1,413,956.53. The bonded debt of North Dakota counties may be divided into two classes: general bonded debt, and seed and feed bonded indebtedness. The general bonded debt of all counties outstanding as of June 30 amounted to $5,178,243.58. Sinking funds on hand applicable to the retirement of such bonds amounted to $837,929.64. The total seed and feed bonds outstanding issued by fifteen counties amounted to only $1,742,595. Sinking funds applicable to the retirement of such bonds amounted to $571,027.51. Several counties did not report the amount of sinking funds applicable to each class of bonds but only the total amount on hand. Consequently the total sinking funds on hand as given above are in excess of amounts shown for each class of bond issues.

Burlington County Is Low

The table below gives a statement of the net assessed valuation of all taxable property in each county for the year 1923. The valuations shown are 75 percent of the valuations as equalized by the State Board of Equalization. The table also shows the net bonded indebtedness of each county and the ratio of the bonded debt to the net assessed valuation of the county for the current year.

Deranged Woman Drowns in Slough

New Rockford, N. D., Nov. 30.—Suffering temporary mental derangement from illness, it is believed, Mrs. F. R. Collins, 56, of near New Rockford, wandered some distance over the edge of an icebound slough, broke through the ice, and falling exhausted, was drowned. After several hours search in the darkness, a party found her body. She had been ill for some time past, suffering from an affection of the brain and bodily weakness. Her husband and four children survive.

APPORTIONMENT SHOWS DECLINE

The November first quarterly apportionment of state and local income on school lands and fines totals 43 cents for each person between the ages of six and 21. The apportionment, which is being made to counties, totals $92,849.28 as compared to $115,857.82 on the same day last year.

ALSO NEW STATIONS

Fargo, Nov. 30.—In addition to the extension of the line from Killdeer, N. D., to Newton, Mont., in its $56,000,000 program for the next three years the Northern Pacific plans several other improvements in North Dakota, according to advisors here.

Charles Donnelly, president of the road, at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing in the Kansas rate case (here announced the program. Chief among these improvements are:

Second main line track from Eldridge to Windsor, N. D., a distance of nine miles.

Classification yard for Jamestown. New power plant for Mandan. The road also plans a new storehouse at Dilworth, Minn., headquarters of the Fargo division.

F. C. Huntington, district superintendent, said today that while the plans are tentative and that he has little further knowledge of the program a new storehouse is needed and undoubtedly will be built if the program is carried out. A new storehouse would cost, he estimates, between $30,000 and $40,000.

would be used for caring for supplies for the division.

New passenger stations and improvements on the old ones during the three years were estimated at $750,000 by Mr. Donnelly. The sites of the proposed new stations were not made public.

To Purchase Bees
Another farmer, in the eastern part of the state, said:

Here's a popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran—greatest health food!

Most every one who realizes how effective Kellogg's Bran is for the permanent relief of constipation has their own particular way of serving this wonderful cereal. Most families eat it as a cereal with milk or cream. Others sprinkle it on their favorite hot or cold cereal. Every one enjoys its nut-like flavor!

If you are cooking a hot cereal try this method.—Measure out two tablespoons for each member of the family. Mix it with the cereal and cook as you always cook the cereal.

Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared and ready to eat, but its regulatory powers are in no way impaired if you cook it with other cereals.

Kellogg's Bran has won the friendly recommendation of physicians because it does give prompt and permanent

"I am going to plant 200 acres of corn next year as wheat farming is a thing of the past in this state. I sowed 270 acres of clover this year and intend to cut most of it for feed next year but I am going to leave some for bees, as I am going to get 20 hives of bees next spring if I can buy that many and let them do the work while I sleep. They are raising a lot of bees around Amenla, North Dakota, and making money. They claim one hive of bees will make 150 pounds of honey, and will much better than the honey that is produced in the east. I am also going to get some sheep, as there is good money in sheep, and every farmer should have a few. There is no use in talking. We farmers have all got to change our system of farming if we intend to succeed." The statements of farmers generally agree that experience shows diversification is the only profitable method of farming in the state. The land commissioner quotes a farmer in the northern part of the state who is tired of "political monkey business" in the following language: "Well, what you think of our Norwegian Governor down there at Bismarck? I think he been a pretty good man. I did not vote for him, but I shall vote for him next time. No, we do not talk much politics around here any more. What we need is money, Ya. We are all too busy now milking cows, raising corn, and a little bit of everything, and making some money, too, Ya. I don't like this here political monkey business, and wish there was no such animal, Ya."

Makes Money
Another farmer, living on the Missouri Slope, said he came here from Russia 12 years ago, is satisfied and is enthused over America.

Another farmer living in the western part of the state said:

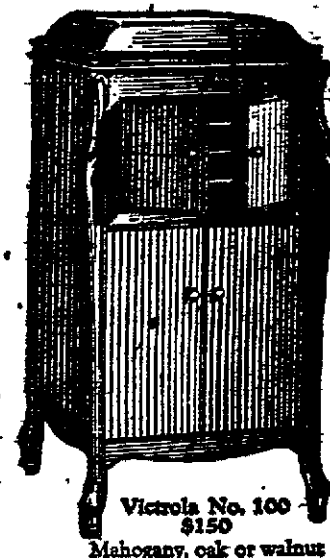

"I have lived in this country for 18 years, and have been raising corn each year. I feed it to cattle and hogs, and I am making good money. I have found out that it does not pay to raise wheat alone as the expenses and threshing bill eats it all up. I planted more corn this year than ever before, and you should see it. Why, if the farmers in Iowa only knew the quality of corn we raise up here, you would see a lot of them flocking to North Dakota as they were trying to get away from paying such high rent. I know because I have relatives living down there. Yes, I am highly in favor of a corn palace next year and will furnish my share of corn to build it. I think it should be built at Bismarck because most of the corn raised in North Dakota originated there, the seed having been purchased from O. H. Will and Company."

When constipation conditions exist in your system or when you are threatened, do not take half-way measures. Foods, with a partial bran content cannot free you! What you must have is Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN! Go the limit; get relief!

Every member of your family will delight in eating Bran raisin bread, muffins, panakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes on every package.

Start eating Bran today! Get well—keep well—keep disease out of your home! First-class hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

Red Seal Records

(A Kiss in the Dark (from "Orange Blossom") (Ed. Sylva-Holmes) Anselita Galli-Curci) 959 $1.50

(Kiss Me Again (from "Orange Blossom") (Ed. Sylva-Holmes) Anselita Galli-Curci) 959 $1.50

Here is the highly unusual combination of two Victor Herbert "waltz-ops," sung in English by no less an artist than this great coloratura mistress of the art of song.

(Letter Song (from "Apple Blossom") (Ed. Sylva-Holmes) Hugo Kreiser 956 1.50

(I'm in Love (from "Apple Blossom") (Ed. Sylva-Holmes) Hugo Kreiser 956 1.50

These two sprightly numbers for the violinists are taken from Fritz Kreisler's music to "Apple Blossom." Fritz Kreisler himself plays the accompaniments at the piano.

(Turkey in the Straw (Ed. Sylva-Holmes) Henry C. Gililand-A. C. (Ed.) Robertson 19149 .75

(Ragtime Annie (Ed. Sylva-Holmes) A. C. (Ed.) Robertson 19149 .75

Two old-fashioned dance numbers by genuine cowboy fiddlers. There is genuine American, not hybrid, music. You will find such musicians, today, only in out-of-the-way places.

Light Vocal Selections

(By the Watermelon Vine (Shannon Quartet) 19142 .75

(Louisiana Lou (Shannon Quartet) 19142 .75

Many people like these male quartets in "close-harmonized" Southern style. Both sung with beautiful smoothness and harmonious sense, to the full orchestra.

(I'm Sitting Pretty in a Pretty Little City (Albert Campbell-Henry Burr) 19180 .75

(Alabama Blacksheep (Perfect Quartet) 19180 .75

If you have a liking for sentimental music, in fox trot time, with two tenors, with a big orchestra and heavy piano-work, this duet will captivate you. "Alabama Blacksheep" adds two more singers and does it again.

(You Can't Make a Fool Out of Me (Harry Burr) 19181 .75

(I'm a Dream (Charles Burr) 19181 .75

There are dramatic touches in these two songs of commonplace life for the tenor voice with the orchestra. They are two of the greatest achievements of these artists.

'Dance Records

(Sleep—Waltz (Waring's Pennsylvanians) 19172 .75

(The West, a Nest, and You—Waltz (Waring's Pennsylvanians) 19172 .75

First Victor record by the famous touring orchestra grown from a Pennsylvania State College dance quartet. "Sleep" is highly original, with a vocal chorus. "The West, a Nest, and You" is an excellent companion.

(Remember—Fox Trot (Joe Raymond and His Orchestra) 19178 .75

(Salt Your Sugar—Fox Trot (Joe Raymond and His Orchestra) 19178 .75

"Remember" is a pleasant fox trot, agreeable to dance to. "Salt Your Sugar" is another excellent fox trot.

(Moonlight Kisses—Fox Trot (Joe Raymond and His Orch.) 19179 .75

(Music of Love—Fox Trot (International Novelty Orchestra) 19179 .75

These numbers have exceedingly romantic titles, but they are wholesome, jolly numbers, free of overstrained sentiment. "Moonlight Kisses" uses a plaintive tune of refrain, but elsewhere it is full of life. "Music of Love" is finely scored.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
 (Established 1873)

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC PLAN
 Announcement by President Donnelly of the Northern Pacific of a $57,000,000 extension plan, probably in the next three years, and the declaration by a Northwestern railroad attorney that two billion dollars capital will be needed in the next few years to provide needed expansion in Northwestern railroads, serves to impress upon the people of the Northwest at an opportune time the views of far-seeing business men and financiers of the future of the great area.

Killdeer and the entire "North Line" country has good reason to feel elated over the Northern Pacific announcement. For not only does it promise in the future a period of great building activity which in itself would mean short-lived prosperity to the region, but it serves to emphasize the real worth and potentialities of a big and fertile section of the western part of the state. The "North Line" has enjoyed a reputation of being "a good country." Its cattle shipments, wheat crops and coal mines have been proof of this.

The Northwestern railroad attorney who sees the need of two billion dollars capital for the Northwestern roads declares that in the near future many small towns will be large cities. The trend of the increasing population of the nation is ever westward; the Northwest has the greatest area of undeveloped coal and other natural resources of any section of the country.

The statement of President Donnelly may have been intended to bring home to the people of North Dakota and other states the big problems being faced by the railroads and the necessity of strong support if the carriers are to keep pace of the development of the country. The recognition of the potentialities of the Northwest should, in like measure, cause the railroad heads to recognize the advantage of fostering this development as, for example the lignite coal freight rates.

YOUR HEALTH

The surest way to live to a ripe old age is to get an incurable disease and nurse it. So said the distinguished Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes. Joking? Not at all. He meant it.

A mild malady, neglected, may develop complications dangerous and even fatal.

An incurable malady often can be fought and held in check for years by taking proper care of the general health. The body's power of resistance is the thing to worry about, rather than any particular ailment that attacks the body.

We have known many people, with one foot in the grave, who lived on and on for years though always on the verge of dying. And simply because they took such good care of themselves.

Few diseases are more distressing than neurasthenia—which is a name given by physicians to cover a multitude of ailments that they cannot definitely diagnose.

A neurasthenic patient is notorious for developing one ailment after another. Now it's the stomach, "all shot to pieces." Tomorrow the stomach is behaving and the heart palpitates. Later the heart steadies and the liver begins acting up. And so on. Through all, the neurasthenic lives on—because the most decided tendency of neurasthenics is the excellent care they take of themselves.

As a result, a pronounced case of neurasthenia usually dies of old age.

Winter is here and with it come epidemics of head colds, sinusitis, bronchitis and what-not. The best weapon against all of them is to keep the body's powers of resistance in good shape, by sensible diet, plenty of fresh air indoors and exercise outdoors, also lots of rest. As in battle, the enemy is less dangerous than the victim's inability to fight.

JAIL NEWS

How would you like to live in a city entirely enclosed in glass walls and glass roof—like a gigantic florist's greenhouse? Architects, engineers and health authorities are beginning to discuss this subject seriously.

Many novel advantages are claimed for the scheme. First of all, the glass-enclosed city would be smokeless. For all chimneys would go up through the roof. This roof would keep heat inside Glasstown, and a summer temperature could be maintained in the coldest climate. Naturally, cost of heating homes and so on would be less. It's even claimed that the coal saving would pay interest charges and provide sinking fund for the original cost of putting the city under glass.

On the streets and yards inside the glass-enclosed city, there'd be vegetable life to purify the air. Furthermore, the air would be constantly replenished by mighty ventilators and periodically purified by artificial rain from roof shower baths.

No one as yet has figured out how to dispose of the poison gas from auto exhaust.

An area of half a square mile could be enclosed in glass, for about 17 million dollars for each 100 feet height, according to builders. This is enough space to house 65,000 people in large apartment houses or 15,000 in two and three-story houses.

The glass-enclosed idea is suggested mainly for the shopping sections of cities, though some enthusiasts would extend it into the residential districts. Nearly every city has the same worked out in miniature, in an "arcade."

These plans to remodel the jail undoubtedly would increase the prison population.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues, which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THIS COULD BE DONE BETTER

Michigan reports potatoes selling at thirty cents a bushel, with few buyers. This, which is not an uncommon thing, is hard on the grower. When it comes about, farmers either can't sell their potatoes at all, or they must sell them at a loss.

A hint of why this happens lies in the report from Alpena that a hundred thousand bushels of potatoes lie there, only partially protected from freezing. Partly this is for lack of cars to move them. Partly it is for lack of storage facilities to save the potatoes for a hungry market time.

A year's supply of potatoes—eliminating for the moment the early potatoes that are fed out through the growing season—comes out of the ground and into the market all about the same time. If people could eat enough of them to last them through the winter, it would be all right. But of course they can't. If farmers, either individually or co-operatively, had storage facilities to hold their potatoes until the market was ready to absorb them, again it would be all right. But they haven't.

And the results are terrific. Potatoes with few buyers, growers forced to take a loss, potatoes rot through freezing or rotting in the ground and, despite the plentiful fall supply, potatoes costly to the consumer in February.

It is conditions like these that give point to such a program as the Minnesota co-operative movement offers. If the growers get together to market their output, graded their potatoes to get fancy prices for fancy stock, and warehouse their fall surplus to take care of the winter demand, they could even up prices so that they could make a profit while the consumers were not gouged by speculators.

The present lack of system is so costly and so absurdly unlikely that sooner or later the co-operative marketing plan will get itself adopted because it must be adopted.

And it might as well be sooner as later. —Duluth Herald.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

This was the next riddle that the Riddle Lady asked the people in Riddle Town.

"Ride a cock-horse to Banbury Cross. I know of something that beats any horse.

Eyes that glare brightly, a horn on her nose,
 Panting and wheezing wherever she goes.

"Never wants fodder and never eats hay,
 Yet drinks like an elephant's baby, they say.

Never needs shoeing—wears rubbers instead,
 'Fraid as she can be of cold in the head.

"Hasn't a hand, but she has a firm So the absence of hands doesn't bother her much.

Neither owns she a foot yet she has a long step,
 And she speeds o'er the ground with much spirit and pep.

"This lady's not vain, yet she wears a large hood,
 And she carries a fan as all real ladies should.

When it's wet she wears chains, though they're not made of gold,
 And puts them on top of her rubbers, I'm told.

"Glides along highways as though she had wings,
 Sometimes she hauls peasants, sometimes she rides kings.

I could sing of her praises all day without end,
 Her name is Miss Swift—my friend."

"That's all there is to it. Can you guess what it is?" asked the Riddle Lady.

"Horns on her nose! She must be a cow!" "Humph!" said another. "A cow's horns are not on her nose. They're on her head. It must be a rhinoceros, if it has a horn on its nose! Is it, Misses Riddle Lady, is it a rhinoceros?"

"No, no!" answered the Riddle Lady. "How could a rhinoceros go so fast? Besides I said that people rode on her and nobody ever, ever, ever could ride on a cross old rhinoceros."

"Well, I'm blest if I know!" said one Riddle Lander after another. "We're all blest if we know. That's the hardest riddle you've asked us yet. Rubbers! Humph! Fanc! Humph! No, we can't guess."

"Give up!" asked the Riddle Lady. "Give up!" said the Riddle Landers gloomily.

"Give up!" said Nancy and Nick. "Why, it's an automobile," said the Riddle Lady.

Nobody got a prize that day. (To Be Continued)

A Thought

Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.—Col. 3:21.

Correction does much, but encouragement does more. Encouragement after failure is the sun after a storm.

And This Makes the Wild-Cat Wild

Tom Sims Says

Neighbors are people who live near you. You wish some would move.

Neighbors are nice people who bring you chicken when they can't eat another bite of it.

Neighbors are sarcastic people who smile gently when you say you never fight with your wife.

Neighbors are people who cook cabbage with the windows open when you are going to have company.

Neighbors are funny people who come over when you are sick and tell you how sick they used to be.

Neighbor women are people with their hair in papers who come over to borrow a cup of sugar.

Neighbor men are people in shirt-sleeves who explain why you should have used a little more yeast.

We don't know why neighbors act so foolish and neighbors don't know why you act so foolish.

Never judge neighbors by what you see hanging on their clothes lines.

Shake hands with a collector and invite him in so the neighbors will not know he is a collector.

Treat your neighbors nice. If you didn't have any neighbors your neighborhood would be deserted.

Never get too mad at your neighbors. Very often your enemies this week are your friends next week.

You seldom see a skinny neighbor forget to pull the shades down.

Never tell the neighbors too much. Quite often your friends this week are your enemies next week.

Some neighbors talk too much. This is fine. You can cuff them instead of eussing the weather.

Rich people are neighbors who make a little more money than you.

Poor people are neighbors who don't make quite as much as you make.

Stingy people are neighbors who are trying to keep out of debt.

An inquisitive neighbor and her lace curtains are soon parted.

Early to bed and early to rise and you hear all the player pianos.

Least said about neighbors the better.

If you see a coal dealer sitting around crying he has sold his coal and can't get any more.

Horses used to get scared when they saw an auto. Now they get scared when they don't see any auto.

MANDAN NEWS

Miss Minnie Engler, daughter of Rev. C. O. Engler, became the bride of Otto Hagerott, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hagerott, Sunday with the father of the bride officiating. The ceremony took place in the Lutheran church at Krem, the couple being attended by Miss Mathilda Hagerott and Henry Hagerott, brother and sister of the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Hagerott will spend an extended wedding trip in California and the western states.

Fred Forman who rode in the Mandan round-up last July and who took down many prizes and is well known here, and Miss Amy La Fromboise were united in marriage at St. Bede's Catholic church at Wapella Nov. 27. The bride is an accomplished musician and has taught school in the Wapella district of the Standing Rock reservation for several years.

Miss Kathryn Braun of Maymarsh and John Hartinger of Maybridge, S. D., were united in marriage at St. Clements church, Maymarsh, Monday, Nov. 19. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. Thomas in the presence of a few friends and the near relatives of the bridal couple.

Miss Anna Hoerner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hoerner of near Heart Butte and Chris Kenner of Richardson were united in marriage at the Sacred Heart church in Glen Ullin Monday by Rev. Fr. Max, O. S. B.

Miss Ella Bohn of Mott spent Thanksgiving as the guest of Mrs. Alvin Stinson.

The birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baker, Jr., of Harmon, Nov. 24 has been announced.

Miss Frances Knutson, former physical training director at the Indian schools spent Thanksgiving with friends in the city.

Rodney Love, Charles Larson, Charles Shaw and Wm. McCormick left Wednesday for Madison, Wis. to attend the national convention of the Editors of high school publications. The former represents "Spatterin'" the local high school publication.

Clarence Budington Kelland, who has already given to the screen some wonderful stories of small town and juvenile life, has come forward once more with "The Steadfast Heart" which will be seen at the Eltinge theater Saturday. "The Steadfast Heart" is the story of a small town, of its later and darker, of its loves and likings, and of its happiness and sorrow.

A wait is brought to trial. A great attorney is taken by a youngster in defense of the child—and a hate is born which lasts through a generation. Sons and daughters are embroiled in the squabble and an entire town is turned against the wait until his few friends send him away to school.

Years later he returns, and for the love of a girl, beats down the barred doors of society, shows what and who he is and in a series of startling episodes brings the picture to a breath-taking climax.

Reginald Barker's genius for staging spectacular and thrilling screen epics has found a new outlet in his recently completed massive production of Metro's "The Eternal Struggle," which is coming to the Capitol Theater next week.

"The Eternal Struggle" is a picture of G. B. Lancaster's widely read novel, "The Law-Bringers." Many of the scenes were filmed in the frozen Canadian northland. Mr. Barker transported his entire cast to Canada, where for months they endured severe hardships while scenes of great beauty were filmed.

Through the co-operation of the Canadian government, Mr. Barker was enabled to explore and make use of many out of the way places of Canada for exceptional shots.

Thrilling realism is the keynote of "The Eternal Struggle." For the first time in history the turbulent waters of the Seymour Canyon Rapids, near North Vancouver, have been conquered by a come to provide one of the great spectacular thrills. The Indians call these rapids, "devil waters," but this, apparently, did not deter Mr. Barker and his players. Incidentally it is in this scene that Pat O'Malley makes his remarkable jump of 125 feet to rescue Renee Adore, caught in the rapids.

When she came forward to shake my hand, she had a kind of peculiar look upon her face that I had never seen there before. An expression which partook of triumph and sorrow. (Now you know, little Marquise, if I would make any such fanciful description as that to anyone but you, she would say I was suddenly gone crazy.) But I still contend, that is just the way the looked and that look was born out of thoughts she did not voice, but which she implied.

"That picture, 'Tramping'—His Heart, I told you about last week, Mrs. Prescott, has been the most popular one that has been shown here for many a day. This was her first exclamation. 'It is going to be here for still another week and I do hope you are going to be able to see it. I have been four times, and I saw your husband there all alone the other evening.' 'Did he say anything to you about it?'"

"Not a word, but my friend, Ruth Ellington, who has just arrived from New York, wrote me while she was there that she had seen the picture and it was extremely interesting."

"Did she tell you anything about it?'"

"No, she said it was too long a story to write what she was so busy and, that she would tell me about it when she got home."

"One reason I think the picture has caught on to such an extent here is because the Perier girl, who plays the principal part and who is said to have helped me authorize the writing of the play, and she is a live wire. Every man in town I think knows her. She was a model girl."

"I know, she was a model girl."

"I know, she was a model girl."

"I know, she was a model girl."

"I know, she was a model girl."

"I know, she was a model girl."

"I know, she was a model girl."

Farmers and Bankers Are Economic Team Mates, but Obligation Rests on Farmer to Protect Soil and Balance Crops, Says D. H. Otis.

SPORTS
CORNELL WINS BY TOUCHDOWN

Has Hard Time Beating Pennsylvania in Football

Philadelphia, Nov. 30.—Cornell conquered Pennsylvania yesterday on the Franklin field, 14 to 7, in one of the most thrilling and desperately fought battles these ancient gridiron rivals have waged in the last 30 years.

Picked by critics to run rough shod over the Quakers, Cornell's "big red juggernaut" was held at bay for the greater part of the game by the narrow margin of a single touchdown only after a struggle in which the tide shifted back and forth spectacularly until the final whistle.

Cornell scored touchdowns in the first and last periods, forward passes figuring prominently in both halves, figuring prominently in both halves, while Penn., aroused to a fighting pitch near the close of the game, took quick advantage of a Cornell fumble and ploughed 25 yards to cross the Ithaca goal line for the first time since 1920.

Outrushing the Quakers almost four to one, Cornell had opportunities to score at least three more touchdowns but failed in the face of Penn.'s sensational defense. This defense twice held Cornell forlorn in the shadow of the Quaker goal, once on the one yard line.

Hair Glory

One minute a day gave it to me

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is my greatest glory. It grows finer every year. I have never had falling hair or dandruff, never a touch of gray. Mine is a grandmother's age, yet countless girls who see me on the stage and elsewhere, envy my luxuriant hair.

So with mother. She died at the age of 57 with hair like mine today. So with many friends who use my methods. They have beautiful hair, and it does not lose its color.

I am convinced that millions, in my way, can multiply the beauty of their hair. And I have arranged to bring that method to them.

A-French Formula

My mother and I many years ago, found this formula in France. It had been developed by experts whose whole lives had been devoted to hair study.

One factor in it combats hardened oil and dandruff, the great enemies of hair. They stifle the hair roots, check hair growth, choke the supply of pigment which gives hair its color. Other factors stimulate and fertilize the scalp. Hair thrives on such a scalp, as flowers will thrive in a clean and wellkept garden.

One Minute a Day

I call this formula my Hair Youth. I apply it daily with an eye dropper, directly to the scalp. Just enough

Selling Out Makes Wheat Heavy in Early Dealings

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Further selling of wheat by traders unwilling to accept the delivery on September contracts had a bearish effect on wheat today during the early transactions. May, as well as December, showed declines. July, however, in which business was lighter than in the other months, showed something of an advance. The opening wheat ranged from 78 to 84 cents lower to 1-4 cents gain with Dec. $1.01 5-8 to $1.02 and May, $1.08 1-4 to $1.09 1-4, followed by continued weakness of nearby deliveries and by strength in July.

Subsequently the market kept within narrow limits. It was estimated that wheat deliveries here tomorrow would total 2,000,000 bushels. The close was unsettled at 5-8 to 1-2 cent net lower to 1-8 cent gain, December, $1.01 7-8 to $1.02, and May, $1.08 1-2 to $1.09 1-4.
